¾ cup uncooked rice
6 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons finely cut onion
2 tablespoons hot shortening
1 ½ cups diced ham, boiled or baked (¾ lb.)
10 ½-oz. can condensed vegetable soup
¼ cup water
¾ teaspoon pepper
1 cup Fat Milk
6 slices pineapple, drained
12 whole cloves
2 tablespoons light brown sugar

Wash and drain rice. Boil until tender in boiling water and 1 ½ teaspoons salt. Drain and rinse with hot water. Turn on oven and set at moderately slow (350° F.). Grease a baking dish holding about 6 cups. Cook onion slowly for 5 minutes in hot shortening. Add ham and cook 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Then add cooked rice, vegetable soup, water, remaining ¾ teaspoon salt and the pepper. Mix thoroughly. Stir in milk. Put in greased baking dish. Arrange pineapple slices on top. Stick two cloves in each slice. Sprinkle brown sugar over pineapple, dividing equally. Bake on shelf of oven slightly below center for about 20 minutes, or until mixture is thoroughly heated.
